

the Red Miller Band

The Red Miller Band is a Virginia band known for their stirring renditions and engaging performances. The band is led by Red Miller, an accomplished keyboard player, singer, and songwriter. With a talented lineup of musicians, including vocalist and guitar picker, Jake Washburne, the band weaves together blues and classic rock music to create an entertaining sonic experience. When the Red Miller Band hits the stage, they deliver an unforgettable musical journey.

Red Miller has a long history performing and recording. His performances show his deep understanding of the blues and how best to rock the house. The band's sound resonates with classic melodies and infectious energy, but it's the smooth baritone of Jake Washburne that often steals the spotlight, captivating audiences with his down-home delivery and charming stage presence.

The band includes a group of seasoned musicians whose collective experience spans decades. Jack Roy's bass locks effortlessly with John Elliot's drums, and Chris Carlson's guitar wails with intensity. Together, the Red Miller Band delivers an unforgettable live experience, taking audiences on a journey through the heart of blues and rock music.
